'Bless The Lord, O My Soul'

Because no Thanksgiving editorial which the editors of the TRUMPET could write would ever equal a psalm of Thanksgiving by David, Psalm 103 is reprinted here from the King James Version.

Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name.
Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits:

Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases;

Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies;
Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.

The Lord executeth righteousness and judgment for all that are oppressed.

He made known his ways unto Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel.

The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.

He will not always chide; neither will he keep his anger forever.

He hath not dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.

Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him.

For he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust.

As for man, his days are as grass; as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.

For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone; and the place thereof shall know it no more.

But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children;

To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his commandments to do them.

The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all.

Bless the Lord, ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments, harkening unto the voice of his word.

Bless ye the Lord, all ye his hosts; ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.

Bless the Lord, all his works in all places of his dominion; bless the Lord, O my soul.

US Politics Changes

One point which both major candidates emphasized over and over again during the recent presidential campaign was that there would be to change in American foreign policy, no matter what the outcome of the elections would be.

It seems to your columnist that this remarkable agreement of two opposing candidates on such a vital question is indicative of a trend which can have very serious effects on our future internal politics. The Republican and the Democratic parties are more and more approaching each other in their attitudes toward the United States. The issue in question was not so much the policy of the GOP as such, but rather a serious blow to old-time conservatism. It would be too early to say that conservatism in the United States is dead, but the events of the last few years seem to indicate that it is definitely on its way out. The Republican party has always been the party of conservative policies, and when a relatively liberal Republican like Mr. Dewey is defeated by a no-more-liberal-than-the-average Democrat like Mr. Truman, the shift to the left is rather obvious.

Not that America has suddenly turned Communist, or even Socialist. The rejection of Mr. Wallace by the American people is indication enough that as long as America remains reasonably prosperous, the Communist ideal will never gain much ground. Nevertheless, the election of Mr. Truman indicates a definite shift from the right-of-center to the left-of-center. In other words the voters are "fed up" with the traditional promise-everything-and-do-nothing policies of the old Republican party.

If the GOP expects to give America her next president, the traditions and customs of the party will have to undergo a very radical change. The platform of the next Republican candidate will have to contain a little more than a few platitudes and generalities. The candidate will have to take a definite stand on the United States issues of the day, but he will have to commit himself on controversial topics, a fact which is unheard of in GOP platforms of the last few elections. If this year's election should have that effect on the party, we can look forward in four years, and maybe even earlier, to that of healthy, straightforward political activity in our country.

In conclusion, a final note of advice, if it may be called that, to future Mr. Wallace—don't promise the American people the impossible or the preposterous. All they want you to do is your best. The fact that the voters have shown their disapproval of right-wing policies does not mean that they will now or at any time approve of the extreme left!

Everybody Knows

Trumpet's 'Wolff'

By Lois Jean Chesley

Everybody knows "The Wolf" of the TRUMPET office—the lady who practically lives at the end of the hall in the White House. Miss Margaret Wolff, who is frequently seen in front of freshman and sophomore English classes and in front of all journalism classes, is the subject for this week.

Feeling very much at home at Wartburg, Miss Wolff has graduated that next to her favorite state, Wisconsin, this part of Iowa rates high. She was born and grew up about thirty miles from Waverly, went to college about fifteen miles from here and has taught in two high schools in the northeast Iowa, New Hampton and Osceola. Besides those, she has been a teacher in three other high schools, two in Iowa and one in Wisconsin, the latter being just before coming to Wartburg.

Love Is Journalism.
"In spite of having majored in English, my chief love is journalism; there is something about it. It is more fun than it is work," she stated.

Work with print must be a favorite with Miss Wolff, for since receiving her master's degree in English from the University of Iowa, she has done nothing but this work in journalism at the University of Wisconsin.

College teaching is preferred by this instructor. Her reasons are two-fold, these being that there is not much disciplinary work in college, so that she doesn't have to "play policeman," and also it isn't necessary to be at school each day at 8 a. m.

ISC Graduate.
Miss Wolff received her undergraduate training at ISC with a B.A., majoring in English and minor in speech. While there she was elected to Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary scholastic fraternity, and Theta Alpha Phi, national honor dramatic fraternity. She was also editor of the ISC weekly student newspaper, during her senior year.

Advice Miss Wolff gives would-be teachers is "As for discipline, make the pupils like you so much that they won't want to cause any trouble."

Miss Wolff is adviser for the TRUMPET and Fortress, as well as director of the News Bureau. Even with all of this work, she says that "Wartburg is growing on me, just as I was told it would."

T. Like Wartburg.
"I like Wartburg because mentioning religion in classes is easy—there is no element of surprise in the students, as they expect it here."

She also stated that she enjoys teaching in a school sponsored by her own church, as it makes her feel at home.

All of this work has to be offset by occasional relaxation and Miss Wolff finds hers either at the piano, singing or at a movie. Her chief hobby is journalism, however, especially Thursday and Friday nights in the White House with the TRUMPET.

NOW THAT THE HESANT season is open, many knights are taking advantage of hunting. "Phee" Haisus shot one pheasant Saturday afternoon, and Sunday evening it was eaten in Trailer No. 12. Wartburg Winds Up In Second

By Adam Meldinger

Wartburg Knights hold second place in the Iowa conference for the 1948 gridiron season. After defeating Parsons last Thursday, the Knights were in the third slot behind Centrai, but when the Dutchmen were upset by Luther last week, Wartburg moved ahead to wind up behind the co-champions, Upper Iowa and Dubuque.

Wartburg ended its season by winning five out of seven conference tilts. Incidentally, the Black and Orange played more loop games than did any other team. The Knights lost their only non-conference game and ended with an overall 5-3 record.

Charges Score 162.
Coach Melvin Nelson's charges scored a total of 162 points to 128 for the opponents and compiled a total rushing yardage of 1,689 to the opponents' 1,038. The Knights were outdone in passing, 791 to 650, but had all enemies in total yardage, 2,339 to 1,829, and led in first downs, 110 to 70.

Wartburg's leading ground gainer and scorer was its bruising fullback, "the Tama stealer" Ervin Hanus. He picked up a total, 620 yards for an average of better than four yards per try and he had pay dirt seven times for 42 points.

Right behind Hanus was the Bushy Mason City halfback, Paul S. Bruns, who ran for 593 yards and had the best yards-per-try average with a robust 6.53. The Knights' defense for 1948 was also a sparkling all season defensively.

Fredrick Third.
Bill Fredrick, one of Wartburg's three seniors, was number three offensive man. Bill did very well considering that this was his first year of college football. The high stepping back scored four TDs, averaged better than 30 yards per try and was invaluable as a defensive man.

Hanus averaged 37.1 yards on the quick kicks and Keith McDougal averaged 301, which record is not had considering that "Mac" had to boot out of bounds much of the time in order to allow the defensive team to enter the game.

Walt Block was the leading kicker for the extra points. He split the uprights nine times while Bill Hansen booted three.

Knights Lose Three.
Wartburg is losing three good men through graduation. Fredrick proved himself to be an important cog in the Wartburg machine this year as did Hanus, the Knights' offensive center who finished his fourth season as a Knight grider. Last we forget Harold Kronmeyer, that scrappy little burst in the defensive guard slot, let us say that Kronmeyer was a hard worker and definitely made up in fight for his lack in size.

Hats off to Coach "Nellie" Nelson for his work in bringing the Knights home a few rungs higher than last year. A salute also to all the boys who fought to make this season successful. In the beginning of the season, your reporter predicted that the Knights would be losing and were aiming for the championship. Well, they were tough, but did not quite reach the top.

But, to paraphrase the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball team, "Wait till next year!" With the rest of the boys' and young men's season, another crop of freshmen coming in, the Knights are going to be better than ever. That championship isn't too far off. Next year could be the year.

Pigskin By Boards; Basketball Practice Begins In Earnest

With football by the boards for another season, basketball practice has begun in earnest. About forty boys are at present, but the squad will be cut to between 25 and 30 men.

To simplify practice sessions, the squad has been divided into an "A" and a "B" team. Coach Ax Burdgaard is in charge of the "A" boys and Coach Earnie Opperman handles the "B" team.

Tentatively, 16 men were to be in the "A" squad, which will be cut to 12 for traveling and regular season play. Of these 16, six are returning lettermen, five are men up from last year's "B" squad and five are freshmen.

Returning lettermen are Lloyd Spier, Waverly; James Koller, Jamestown, N. D.; Lynn Brown, Northwood; Paul S. Bruns, Mason City; Gene Bowditch, Waverly; and Luvern Sauerby, Waverly.

Those up from last year's "B" squad include Wayne Innis, Toluca, Ill.; Robert Herder, Homewood, Minn.; Dean Bencke, Palmer; William Fredrick, Waverly; and Duane Ukert, Edgar, Wis.

Freshmen on the "A" squad at present are Paul Olson, Strawberry Point; James Lenguardo, Chicago, Ill.; Robert Campbell, Richard Center, Wis.; Robert Rodewald, Fort Wayne, Ind.; and Robert Ukert, Edgar, Wis.

Basketball schedule calls for 19 games with the opener against Bethel at St. Paul, Minn., on Dec. 11.

Women Play Games In WAA Program

Badminton and volleyball were the entertainment of the Women's Athletic association, which met in the gymnasium Monday evening. The group decided to hold practice every Monday from 8 to 9 p. m. and on Thursday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

These evenings will be spent playing a variety of sports. Plans for a volleyball tournament are under way. Everyone is welcome to play in the tournament, according to club officers, the only requirement being one night of practice before participating. Miss Mildred Soma, physical education instructor, and Miss Esther Little, biology instructor, are co-advisors.

Those interested are invited to attend the next practice.

from Engel's Angle

Did Wartburg finish in second or third place in the conference this year? After last Thursday's scare against Parsons, and Central's defeat at the hands of Luther, we are behind Upper Iowa and Dubuque, who tied for the conference crown. Some say that gives us second place, but your columnist maintains that you can't be in second place when there are two teams ahead of you. Be that as it may, we do have the distinction of winning as many loop games as any other school in the conference.

Lorns had a 2-0 conference record but did not play enough conference games to be eligible for title recognition.

This conference is badly in need of revision. There are 13 teams in the conference, which make it much too cumbersome. Several do not play enough conference games to qualify for the title as it is, and several are out of the class of the majority of the conference teams. The fall meeting of the conference officials is being held this week, and it is possible that the necessary change will be discussed.

Paul Bruns was again chosen "Athlete of the Week." This is the first time this year anyone has been chosen twice for this honor. Paul also plays basketball and baseball, so he can be expected to win the honor several more times during the year.

Most people have no doubt heard of the typical athlete. One such athlete has turned up in one of the Big Nine schools. When told by his English teacher that he had received a "B" in his English course, he replied, "Wait'll me madder huns of dis."

Russia To Be Topic of Wolfe

"Russia and the West: One World or Two" will be the subject of a lecture by Henry C. Wolfe, internationally famous foreign affairs expert, when he appears on the platform at the Waverly high school auditorium Dec. 3 at 8 p. m.

Mr. Wolfe, who will appear under the auspices of the Wartburg college Artist Series committee, is the man who successfully predicted the rise of Nazi Germany.

Having just returned from Europe after making his fifth trip there, Mr. Wolfe has a reputation for getting news at its source. Since taking part in World War I, he has gathered news in England and Scandinavia, as well as in continental Europe. In 1940 he made a survey of Axis activities in Latin America, going down as far as Argentina.

Travelled in Pacific.
After traveling 21,000 miles in the Pacific area, from Japan, Australia, he started his New York Town Hall audience one month to the day before Pearl Harbor by predicting a Japanese blitz against the United States.

In 1939 Harper's magazine published Henry Wolfe's forecast of the Nazi-Soviet pact three months in advance of the event.

Ten Strikes in Wolfe.
After one of Wolfe's Town Hall appearances, the educational director there recommended, "You have a ten strike in Henry C. Wolfe." His forthright manner of factual reporting the current scene makes him an excellent addition to any program.

Mr. Wolfe's prophetic powers in world affairs have been praised by many newspapers, among them the Montreal Gazette, which said, "With amazing foresight this man, Henry C. Wolfe, has made most every card in the European hand. It happened just as he believed it would."
Among the books penned by Mr. Wolfe are "The German Oe-topus," "Human Dynamite" and "The Imperial Society."

Manhood Inc. Meets For Premiere Event On Banks of Cedar

Manhood Inc. and its think-be-15-member, Robert Gronlund, had their first formal social event of the year last Saturday when they had a mixed picnic gathering along the banks of the Cedar river near Janesville.

After over-marching on sand and winners, this group dedicated to the restoration of man's original rights heard a lesson on the Swedish language conducted by "Red" Rath. Marv Goetz led the group screaming, after which the two Swedes from the Northland gave their version of two popular Swedish ballads, "Who Threw the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowder with the Snuff in the Pocket" and "The Night That Faddy Murphy Died."

Finer points of the history of Norm Fintel's nickname, "Little Beaver," were explained. "Little Beaver" himself presented a war dance while "Ph" Hanus broke up fireworks, "Little Beaver" having forgotten his tomahawk.

As the big wind from "Blow-uh" finally blew himself out, everyone departed for the local Hershey's "Snooze" Henderson, Most Faithful and Highly Honored Grand Snooze and Exalted Potentate of the Magnificent Order of Copenhagen, reported that silence reigned supreme among the feminine companions throughout the evening.

UN To Be Topic At Political Meeting

How the UN can be made more workable and successful will be discussed at the next meeting of the Political Science club, which will meet Tuesday, Nov. 30, at 7:30 p. m.
Leaders of the discussion will be Dorothy Cross, senior, Harold Meyer, junior, and Herbert Hildebrandt and Harry Feistner, freshmen, all of whom attended the Drake model UN assembly last month.

These students will also report on the meeting of the Iowa Intercollegiate United Nations association, and present the viewpoints discussed there.

Verein Will Carol

Hans Sachs Verein, German club, has set Dec. 12 as its night for caroling, according to Merrill Herder, junior and president of the group.

Caroling will begin immediately following the meeting of the Lutheran Student association. Both English and German carols will be sung.

"Anyone interested in caroling, although not a member of the club, is welcome," stated Herder. Following the caroling a picture of the Hans Sachs Verein will be taken for the Fortress. This will be an informal shot of the group caroling.

Pastor Will Speak

The Rev. Harold Adix of Waterloo will address the Chi Rho pre-theological society on Dec. 5, as announced by Merrill Herder, vice-president and program chairman. He will speak on the philosophy of a parish pastor.

At this meeting, Francis Neumann, junior, will discuss plans for the Christmas candlelight service, of which he has charge. This service will be held shortly before Christmas vacation.

The Rev. Marcus Rieke, youth director of the American Lutheran church, has been secured to speak to Chi Rho during Religious Emphasis week, on Feb. 3.

IS LIKE A DISTANT MOUNTAIN

When we see its outline softened by fleecy clouds and its sharp crests concealed by a blanket of soft, smooth snow. The hard realities of its rough, ice-coated peaks and deep, treacherous crevasses are not visible so far away.

When we get there we find the climbing tortuous because we have not conditioned ourselves for it. Real success in life keeps pace with the march of our 40 earning years—from age 25 to 65. Success lies in living each stage of life without letting the trivial WANTS of today obscure the vital NEEDS of tomorrow. There is just one plan that insures the success of our whole journey—that plan is life insurance. A Lutheran Mutual Retirement Income Policy will provide a fixed income at age 60 or 65 and insure the ultimate success of your life's journey.
